ACCUSATIONS REBUTTED.—During the June term the attention of the Grand Jury was called to a communication, signed "J. M. H.", dated at Richmond, June 6, and originally published in the Loudoun Republican. The following is the communication:

"RICHMOND, VA., June 6, 1870.
"Dear Sir:—I notice in your issue of the 3d instant, a statement in a small paragraph, as follows:

"The policeman who assaulted Congressman Porter and Collector Humphreys was promptly suspended and arrested, and sent on to answer an indictment."

"This statement is calculated to mislead, Woods (evidently prompted to assassinate Mr. Porter by others of more note) was attacked by others of more note) was attacked by others of more note) was at-terwards sheltered by the authorities, was encouraged especially by Presidents of Registration, has drawn his pay from the city treasury every day since the outrage was committed, and has freely walked the streets and been lionized for the cowardly deed ever since. Outrages are daily being committed upon the persons of Republicans; numbers are shot down; houses attacked with stones, and shot fired at them. Are these things to be kept hidden from the country? I hope not. Truly yours,

J. M. H."

The reputed author, J. M. Humphreys, Collector, was speedily summoned, and appeared before the Grand Jury. He neither denied nor avowed the authorship of the communication, but gave the names of about fourteen parties who had been assaulted and injured in the manner spoken of in the communication. All these parties were promptly summoned before the Grand Jury, to make known their wrongs. All appeared, and although every effort on the part of the Jury was made to investigate each case, only three were found to possess any merit as to the semblance of a violation of the law.

First and foremost was the much talked of Pat Woods Porter case. This case had been previously acted upon with promptness, in the Mayor's Court, and Pat had been sent on for indictment.

The second was a shooting affair on Main street, in the latter part of May. This also had been legally investigated and settled in the Mayor's Court by the parties, although a true bill was subsequently found by the Grand Jury against the assaulting parties.
The third was an assault on an individual, no officer being present at the time of the assault; the party assaulted went off and failing to make his grievance known, no legal steps were or could be taken to bring the offender to justice; a true bill was found against the offender.

The other cases reported by the reputed author of the communication in the Loudoun Republican were of so frivolous a nature as to be unworthy of notice. Some of the parties brought before the Grand Jury were surprised and indignant that they were hauled up to testify about some little basty misunderstanding between friends, which had been forgotten in the moment after its occurrence; others knew of no violations of the law; others had little or nothing to complain of, and entirely unsupported by proof of any kind.—Rich News.

FRIENDLY SPIRIT.—The subjoined editorial paragraph which we copy from the Richmond Enquirer is in a spirit of friendliness. It says:
"Let the honest men of all parties cultivate some measure of kindness and generosity in political warfare. Great parties divided in the United States on substantial issues. Men may be allowed to take either side, on such issues, without imputing to them sinister motives of action. It is the political habit, which cannot tell on which side to go, until they find where success is going, that are dangerous to all sincere people, and require to be driven off by all such. We have no right to quarrel with a citizen because he is a Republican—the Republican has no right to quarrel with us because we are Democratic. But each of us has a right to quarrel with the little squad that hang round, professing neutrality, and mean to strip either party that is beaten, and claim from the victors the privilege of holding the spoils. Such persons corrupt politics, make it a mere personal and clique game, and ought to be discountenanced wherever public virtue and principle are esteemed.
They never get place or influence except from the influence of force. Men who dread defeat will accept this sort of ally. Men of sense and courage know that victory, by such aid, is infinitely more disastrous than defeat without it. Party struggle must prevail in all free countries. Party hate need exist in none, where men of courage and of honor lead."

SALARIES OF DRY GOODS SALESMEN.—The New York correspondent of the Boston Post has an article on "salesmen who don't grumble," embodied in his latest letter. These salesmen, according to this writer, are the lucky fellows who make from $5,000 to $20,000 a year. Some dry goods salesmen, he declares, receive double the salary of the Chief Justice of the United States. Last year a man was discharged from one of the principal houses in this city (we follow the correspondent) because he had made, by salary and commission, over $25,000 in one year. The head of the firm thought that was too much for one man, and gave him notice that he might leave. Another salesman made $20,000 the same year in the same house. There are a score of buyers who receive regular salaries from $8,000 to $10,000, and whose expenses to Europe and back, twice a year, are paid besides. Then there are many scores of salesmen who get $5,000 and upwards, some of these drawing during the year as much as $8,000. During the past few years many salesmen have cleared more money than their employers. Inequality is fairly exemplified in the condition of the wholesale and retail clerks in New York—one class earning from $5,000 to $20,000 a year —(though, of course, some do not get even half the first figure.) and the others struggling along on $600 or $700.

nesday, the 29th ultimo, a little red cow,
